

REMARKS

In a telephone conference on July 20, 2005, in the above-identified application, the Examiner inquired as to what was intended by the word "notch" as used in the sole claim in this application, Claim 5. It was pointed out that the notch referred to an opening in the surface of the tower 41a which is illustrated in the drawings. However, because the intended structure set forth in Claim 5 was unclear to the Examiner Applicant has hereby amended that claim to further clarify inventive structure.

As will now be appreciated, Claim 5 is directed to the third embodiment of the invention, as illustrated in Figs. 9-12, and Applicant's changes to Claim 5 have been made to utilize the wording of the Specification which describes that embodiment beginning on Page 14, line 18. In this regard, the claim refers to the base plate, illustrated as element 41 in Figs. 9-12; the column 41a mounted on that base plate, as illustrated in those drawings; and, the opening in the top surface of that column, shown as opening 41b in Figs. 9 and 10. The other elements of Claim 5 are believed to be already described with sufficient clarity.
